New Safety regulations

Because of new safety rules with EA, we can no longer run Hunter trials without a minimum of 1 normal paramedic and one CCP plus/ minus an experienced trauma doctor. This is the same level of safety requirements for an official event.

If we replace a Hunter xc with a training day, where riders train by themselves or in groups on an open XC day, they need to be accompanied by an EA coach. We are still working on what we do for our normal Hunter trial in August. If we replace it with an open training day, all riders would have to be with a coach, if we have a normal Hunter, riders would need to pay at least $30 ambulance levy and it would no longer be a fund raiser.

We are having a cross country coaching day on 25th April with Lesley Brodbeck and Jo Williams is trying to organise one with Brett Cattle at Easter, 11th 12th April, will keep you posted.
